Our office can be difficult to find the first visit, so here are the specific directions. The address is at the bottom of this description so you can put it into your preferred GPS. It will get you to the correct block of Washington Street.

- From Washington Street turn into the driveway between Taylor Rental (it's next to Papa Razzi) and a four story office building. The addresses are listed on the small sign at the entrance but Superman vision is required to actually read it.
- Drive straight back until you approach a building that resembles a ranch style home. The Integrity office is located in this building.
- The first five parking spaces on the left, next to the building are reserved for Integrity. Please park in one of them.
